EARTHQUAKE And Trip to Japan Interestingly Described--Customs of Peo- ple and other Facts.

[The following letter is from Col. F. P. Firey, of Pomona Cal., who for years lived with Rev. W. T. Gibbs, and is well known by the Cassidy & Trimble families, and was written to Bruce Trimble, editor:]

YOKOHAMA, JAPAN, Nov. 8, 1906.
Bruce W. Trimble.

Mt. Sterling, Ky.

My Dear Brucius: I have been intending from time to time to write you a letter from Japan, and now if you will excuse the use of a pencil I will attempt to write you a few lines before we take our departure from the "Sunrise Kingdom."

You probably have been aware that my wife and I have been touring Japan, as I have occasionally dropped you a postal card to let you know that "we were still alive."

We left our Pomona Cal., home the 17th of July and stopped one day at San Jose to visit Mrs. F.'s sister. At San Jose we first saw evidences of the great earthquake that on the 18th of April laid San Francisco in ashes-and remains. The new Court-house and Hall of Records, but previously completed, was a mass of ruins, being split from foundation to dome, resembling a crushed egg-shell. Two churches were a mass of ruins and their walls thrown out into the streets, and many dwelling houses looked as though they had sunk several feet into the ground, and ^{over} in their foundations other owing day we were.

The once magnificent, the "Chronicle,"
"Examiner" buildings were a mass of ruins and street car tracks in other parts of the city were twisted so as to resemble the tracks of a snake through a dusty road. "Nob Hill," once adorned with the palaces of San Francisco's millionaires, was as desolate and thrice more forbidding than the miserable abodes of the former out-castes and beggars. Hundreds of blocks, fully one-half of the city, resembled a burned forest of blackened trunks of once gigantic trees. Beyond the burned district we observed some peculiar freaks of the earthquake. At the corner of Hayes and Fillmore streets is an old brick Catholic church which apparently was not touched by the "quake," while within two blocks was a once beautiful Jewish Synagogue and Temple which had recently been constructed of pressed bricks, and was a mass of crushed brick and mortar. I don't know whether the quality of religion had anything to do with the fate of the two structures or not; perhaps had our Catholic brethren might have had an opinion on the matter, but I did not have an opportunity to interview any of them in relation thereto. It will take at least twenty-five years to rebuild the city, but the former San Francisco with the spirit of "49" has passed away forever.

We left San Francisco at noon, July 20th, by the Pacific Mail S. S. Mongolia. We reached the dock just as they were ready to load in the gang plank—in less than five minutes more we would have been just in time to have seen our baggage, containing our finery, sailing away to the Orient and Mrs. F. standing on the dock, bathed in tears, bidding it a sad farewell. Of course I did not expect to meet anyone on board of a steamer bound for so distant a foreign port I had ever met before, but as I reached the deck of the vessel I was accosted by my military title by Rev. Dr. Gordon, formerly of Pomona, who was aboard to bid adieu to several Presbyterian missionaries bound for India and Japan.

After passing through the "Golden Gate" all passengers repaired to the dining room for luncheon and had our first meal on board the steamer, which by some in a short time fed to the fishes of the deep. I held on to mine and did not miss a meal the entire trip. We reached on the morning of the 6th of Aug on shore from San Francisco, where we went ashore and took in the sights of that flower embowered island city. We secured a carriage and took a drive around the city and over the famous Pali drive which winds up a canyon to the opposite side of the island, which terminates at a precipice that is some several hundred feet to the rocks below. It was over this road and over this precipice the first invaders of the island drove some 3000 of the natives, the leader of the invaders then proclaimed himself the first king of the islands. It is said that some of the bones of the unfortunate natives were to be found at the bottom of the precipice until a few years ago. The climate there being the same throughout the year the vegetation does not have the dark green color like we have in California, nor your blue-grass fields in Kentucky, but is of a pale green color such as we have not seen anywhere else. Flowers—roses excepted—are very beautiful, the hibiscus especially growing to perfection, being large and double and 5 to 6 inches in diameter. We left Honolulu in the evening of the day of our arrival, bound for Yokohama, our next port of call. We sailed along day after day through peaceful seas as calm and tranquil as a sea of glass. We would pace the decks, read and sleep. If you are ever troubled with insomnia I would advise you to take a trip across the Pacific which will induce sleep if nothing else will. We arrived at on the morning of the 6th of Aug where we got our first sight of these queer people on their native heath. At the pier we got in "jimkiddish," and took our first ride in a vehicle drawn by a human horse. It was a queer sensation to see these brawny, dusky, scantly clad fellows trot off with a pace nearly equaling that of a horse. I am now so accustomed to riding that way for the last four months that I suppose when I return to California it will seem strange to me to drive my own horse, "Buncombe," again. From Yokohama we sailed for China touching enroute at Kobe, Nagasaki, Shanghai and finally Hong Kong our destination. At Nagasaki we took a "Riksha" ride to Mogi, which is a beautiful drive up and down a beautiful canyon, its sides lined with beautiful bamboo, and every available spot covered with little rice paddies and vegetables. If it's true that beauty "unadorned" is "adorned" the most, then surely ought to be a great deal of beauty in Japan, for, on our ride to Mogi, I saw more nakedness than I ever beheld in my life; children on every hand were entirely naked and men and women but very little better. You see this everywhere, both in Japan and China. The trip down through the Inland sea, from Kobe to Nagasaki was a grand sight, like unto a dream of fairyland. It is interspersed with hundred and thousands of islands, many small, but many larger and all clothed in green from water's edge to summit and many of them terraced with rice paddies and vegetables.

At Nagasaki we were shown a small rugged island in the harbor from whose summit thousands of Christians were hurled to their death at time of the explosion of the Christians over 300 years ago. Here all vessels coal going and coming from the Orient. The coaling is all done by hand; they place ladders and scaffolds to the sides of the vessel upon which the men and women stand from early morn till late at night passing from one to the other baskets made of straw filled with coal. Usually it takes about ten hours to coal a vessel with 1200 tons of coal this way. I saw women with little babies tied on their backs toiling away all day tossing to the next above them. These baskets are filled with coal, containing 10 to 12 pounds. For such labor the woman receive 15c and the men 20 cents per day.

AT SHANGHAI.

our vessel anchored at the mouth of the Yankse river and the passengers were conveyed to the city some 18 or 20 miles up the river by a launch, smaller steamers than ours can easily go all the way. The day being Sunday we attended church at the Union-Foreign-Church. It was the only time I ever attended church where the men outnumbered the women there being only 10 or 12 ladies in attendance, the balance being men, mostly Englishmen. The day was very warm and the church was provided with electric fans

HAVE YOU CATARRH?

Breathe Hyomei and Get Relief

If you have Catarrh with its many unpleasant symptoms, you should begin to use the healing Hyomei at once.

Hyomei is made from nature's soothing oils and balsams, and contains the germ killing properties of the pine forests. Its medication is taken in with the air you breathe, so that it reaches the most remote cells of the respiratory organs, killing all catarrhal germs and sooths any irritation there may be in the mucus membrane.

A complete Hyomei outfit costs but $1, extra bottles, if needed, 50 cents, and W. S. Lloyd gives his personal guarantee with every package that money will be refunded unless the treatment cures.

and "pungkash," the latter being large fans made of paper suspended on horizontal bars, which are operated by coolies on the outside of the building by a rope which they pull to and fro.

The band—the street fronting on the water—is very beautiful and is adorned by lawns and shade trees; it is called the Paris of the Orient. It is here that we see the wheelbarrow that is used to convey passengers. It is rather a clumsy affair with a platform extended on each side of the single wooden wheel. I have seen from one to five chinamen sitting on these clumsy wheelbarrows and the coolie trotting along pushing his burden before him and the perspiration streaming from every pore.

We did not try the wheelbarrow as that seemed to be about the "limit" of means of transportation.

We left Shanghai the same evening and after sailing two days and nights down the eastern coast of China, through balmy seas, we arrived at on the morning of the 15th of August, having sailed 7500 miles over seas the entire way as smooth as glass.

Hong Kong is an island 12 by 3 miles and contains some 400,000 inhabitants; 100,000 of whom live in small boats, called sampans. The foreign portion of the city is built on the side of the mountain, the streets, or roads as they call them, run parallel, one above the other very much like steps on a staircase.

The Chinese that live in the small boats on the water must surely have a severe struggle for a living. Their boats are about as large as an ordinary two-horse wagon-bed and yet families of from 6 to 8 live and die in these small dismal quarters.

The chair is the mode of conveyance here the hill being too steep to admit the use of the "Riksha."

The chair is suspended between two poles and is carried on the shoulders of two coolies, one in front and the other behind.. They are pleasanter to ride in than the "Riksha," only you can't go faster than a walk. Here one sees the Chinese women doing the heaviest and most menial kind of work, such as carrying heavy loads of brick and mortar to the tops of buildings under construction. Here Chinese women, called Amahs, will call daily at your room and offer for sale the most beautiful and exquisitely made linen drawn work at remarkably low prices, and many other articles dear to the feminine heart.

We visited Canton which is 90 miles up the Canton river. This was our first visit to the real heart of a Chinese city. Canton contains over 2,000,000 inhabitants, is over 3000 years old and so dense are the houses and so narrow are the streets that the city does not occupy more space than does Mt. Sterling. The streets of Canton are so narrow that it is with difficulty two chairs can pass each other. The odors in the streets are terrible. We were obliged to have a guide and a runner to go in front to announce "the foreign devils are coming" and to clear the way for our approach.

We visited the Budist temple of 500 Gods all painted in gold lacquer and many of them hideous enough to scare the devil out of a year's growth. Two old priests were thumping a drum and chanting a doleful tune that reminded me of the witches of Endor. At the entrance of every house or shop we would see an image or shrine before which they continually burned incense to their Gods. We had our lunch, or "tiffin" as they call it in the Orient, in the ACT QUICKLY.

Delay Has Been Dangerous in Mt. Sterling.

Do the right thing at the right time.

Act quickly in times of danger. Backache is kidney danger. Doan's Kidney Pills act quickly. Cures all distressing, dangerous kidney ills.

Plenty of evidence to prove this.

T. A. Shea, the well known ~~ex~~ clerk at the Fordham Hotel, residing on Main Street, Paris, Ky., says: "I have had very little ~~ex~~ experience with proprietary medicines for my kidney trouble but the successful results I obtained through the use of Doan's Kidney Pills makes me well pleased to give them my hearty endorsement and recommendation. The pains across the small of my back were steadily cleared away, and I am thankful that through our newspapers I learned of Doan's Kidney Pills and procured a box. My health is so greatly improved that I cannot but consider Doan's Kidney Pills a remedy of the greatest merit."

Plenty more proof like this from Mt. Sterling people. Call at F. C. Duerson's drug store and ask what his customers report.

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Millburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

five storied pagoda which is said to have been built before Christ was on earth. From there we could see the grave-yard which extends for 20 miles in every direction and has been used as such for thousands of years. We visited the "City of the Dead" which contains a number of buildings with numbers of rooms in which persons of wealth place the caskets containing the bodies of those loved ones until they can procure a "good luck" place to bury them. Before each casket they have a bowl of water and a bowl of rice, which is renewed fresh daily and they keep incense burning continually. We visited the old water clock which has been recording time, drop by drop for thousands of years. It is remarkable to see the beautiful hand embroidery these Chinamen can do, and they sell it at prices that would seem like finding it in America. I have seen Chinamen naked to the skin, save only a loin cloth, doing the most delicate carving in Ivory, and to look at them you would scarcely think them capable of whittling a stick, and yet these skilled workmen seldom receive more than 15¢ per day.

MUST NOT DRINK.

All officials are forbidden the use of intoxicants while off or on duty in the penitentiaries. How is this for the State administration? Is it not true to its promises?

Governor Beckham in a visit to Louisville met with some of the leading ministers and lawyers of that city, and the manner of procedure in keeping the "Id on" in our cities was discussed and before many days it will be tightly adjusted. The Governor is showing himself true to his pledge to the people and to his convictions.

NO I THANK YOU.

The Kentucky Judge of the Supreme Court of the United States, Judge Harlan, after considering the Governorship of Kentucky, the flattering promises of his Kentucky Republican friends and supporters, has fully decided not to enter the campaign against Judge Hager, Democratic nominee.

Judge Harlan is a wise Judge and possible the strongest man that could be put in the contest and if he cannot see more than disastrous defeat, what could be expected from others of lesser powers influence and lights? The eminent Judge has a good position and will take no chances.

There is trouble in a neighboring town because the preacher had the courage of his convictions and preached about sin in its most heinous forms. Said preacher had gone in disguise into the darkest places of infamy and shame saw for himself what had been told him by others. He saw there the boys of respectable families and the crap game was purity compared with other practices of these well raised boys. The preacher did the right thing when he talked about sin, called things by name, arraigned parents as party to such conduct and warned the city to desist else God would be avenged. A preacher with the courage to warn the people of their sins should be upheld.

Every good citizen should be firm and encourage him in his efforts to correct immoral practices.

Are you desirous to have your community good, better, best? If so, what are you and the other fellow doing to help attain it. Some say: "give it to them," "I am with you," "go for them," "If I were editor of a paper I would clean that dive in thirty days." Say! what do you know when called before the grand jury; how many of you will sign your names to a protest or condemnation of certain conduct; what is your decision when you serve on petit juries? These are timely suggestions.

FOR YOU.

HEALVILLE, VA., Dec. 6, '06. Dr. W. R. Thompson, W. T. Tyler and J. W. Heden, pulpit committee of the Mt. Sterling Baptist church:

My Dear Brethren:

After much prayer, I have come to the conclusion that our Heavenly Father hath brought your church and myself together. It is my conviction that the Holy Spirit has guided both the church and myself in this matter, and I trust that the church will strive with me to glorify God in our labors.

It will be my one aim to come to Mt. Sterling as quickly as possible, but at the same time I must strive to reside here, so as for the cause not to suffer.

From this time on I wish for the church at your city to pray for me as her pastor and as one of your members, I will think of you as my people and shall be anxious to get into your midst.

Sincerely Your Pastor,

The great volume of business done with foreign trade, Customers who come from much larger towns lead us to believe that our prices, too, are far lower than other stores. The Holiday time is drawing near and judging from our record breaking sales the rush will be the greatest in the store's history. We figure on doing things well, but we must have time, it is impossible to get extra help that is competent, therefore we request those who have clothing to buy, whether for gift or personal use, to make their purchases early, we will gladly lay aside any article for you and make any exchange after the holidays, even to refunding the money. Come in to day, let us show you, whether you buy or not, the pleasure will be mutual.

What Christmas Means to Me.

The Superintendent of the First Presbyterian Sunday School asked the members of his school to state briefly in writing what Christmas meant to them. A great many responded and we give a condensed report of the replies:

When it is quite the fashion to wear a smiling face.

To make others happy rather than attempt to make them good.

A Holy day not a not-a-holler day.

It means giving in place of getting as do all the other days.

The day when the stingy man turns over a new leaf.

Songs should be in the ear and on the lips.

We should be happy and try to make others happy, a day when sadness should be banished.

We should be glad and not frivolous.

Not to think of our own comfort but rather of the happiness of others.

It means glory to God in the highest an on earth peace, good will toward men.

It is Christ's birthday and should be celebrated by giving to Christ's own, the children.

Bingham Declares He Will Assist Governor Beckham to "Cork Up" Louisville.

Following a conversation between Gov. Beckham at Frankfort, and County Attorney Bingham, in Louisville, by long distance telephone, Mr. Bingham announced on Wednesday that he would adopt the plan suggested by the Governor to Commonwealth's Attorney Hufaker, and will file suits to recover fines from the saloon keepers who have kept open on Sunday, or who shall do so in the future.

The decision of County Attorney Bingham means that the "lid" is to go on Louisville again for the first time in many months. Then the saloons will probably hold on to the privileges that Judge McCann has seen fit to grant them until the law is decided, it is now apparently certain that the "lid" will soon fit tightly again, as far as the saloons are concerned.

"There is no doubt about the illegality of operating saloons on Sunday," said Mr. Bingham, "but there are grave difficulties in the way of enforcing the law against the saloons."

City is to Receive Over Six Thousand.

Of the $12,000 in back taxes, penalties and interest recovered by the city of Lexington, from the estate of Mrs. Clara Bell Walsh, by a recent decision of the Supreme Court, the city will receive between $6,000 and $7,000.

The $12,000 will be divided between the city, Back Tax Collector and Special Attorneys. Mr. Hardisty will receive $4,000. The special attorneys will receive fifteen per cent of the remainder.

DISCOURTESY OF A C. & O. EMPLOYEE.

Profanity is Answer to Inquiry Over Telephone About Trains.

Lexington, Ky., Dec. 5, '06
To the Editor of The Herald:

I had an experience this morning which I think ought to be called to the attention of the officials of the C. & O. railroad.

I expected a guest from the East to arrive on the C. & O. train which is advertised to arrive at 8:20. Knowing how irregular the trains have been recently and that the train due at 8:20 did not arrive on Tuesday until late in the afternoon, I did not wish to go to town, until the train did actually arrive. I telephoned 157 and got no answer, then telephoned 84 and was told that the line was out of order, then called up 143 and got an answer. I asked if that was the train master's office of the C. & O., and the man at the other end said it was. I asked what the time the C. & O. from the East would arrive, and was answered "About 9 o'clock." I then asked if he could not tell me a little more definitely than that, and he answered: "It is due at 8:30, is 35 minutes late, but you are pretty darned inquisitive." I answered that I had a right to know what time the train would get to Lexington, and he answered: "It's none of your business—darned business," and hung up the telephone.

This was five minutes after eight o'clock. I called central again and asked for 143. I asked if that was the trainmaster, and the man at the telephone said no, he was an engineer. I then said I wanted to know who it was that had just told me it was none of my business what time the train would arrive, and heard the man at the telephone ask who had been talking over the telephone, and a voice said: "It was me, I said it was none of his business what time the train got here." The voice at the telephone then said: "I do not know who it was talking to you," and I said, "I have just heard the man who was talking to me say 'it was me,' and he said: 'If you think so come down and see.'" I would like very much to have gone and seen had I not been so far away.

Yours very truly,
"COUNTRYMAN."

A MINISTER'S LETTER OF COMMENDATION.

Diamond

FIVE BIG FACTORIES.

"I have been trying to get some firm here to put in a line of your shoes, as we have a hard time getting a good shoe in this town. I believe if you will take the master up, you can arrange with Messrs. & Co. to handle 'Diamond Brand' shoes. I have no interest in the master or that I would like to have a good shoe in a while. You can rest assured that I handled your shoes when in business in Quanah, and know what they are." REV. WALTER GRIFFITH, Silverton, Texas.

Could the superiority of Diamond Brand shoes be more convincingly shown? You are just as anxious for good shoes as Rev. Griffith and it is equally worth your while to insist that your dealer supply them.
